Mr. John Barnett, Jr., while driving from this city Saturday night to his home near Camargo, accidentally drove his wagon off a bridge near his home, falling a distance of fifteen feet into a creek and sustaining injuries from which he died. It is thought that the horse fell on him as his lungs were badly crushed. Mr. Sewell's escape from serious injury is considered remarkable.

The regular April horse show was held at the grounds of the Montgomery County Fair Association in this city Monday and quite a nice crowd attended. There were fewer horses shown than in many years.

Mainleaf (3) 2:08 1/4, owned by Mr. John White Trimble, was the center of an admiring group and many requests were made for copies of his stud book.

Peter Montgomery, owned by Maple Hill Stock Farm, was worked with the Philistine and showed good speed. He is a son of the great sire, Peter the Great.

The Philistine 2:06 1/4, owned by E. R. Little, is a side-wheeler of fine speed and attracted considerable attention.

Star Emerald, owned by Mr. C. B. Dale, was ridden by his owner, and like on former occasions, his perfect gait and fine individuality made him the center of an admiring throng.

Kentucky Star, a black son of Black McDonald and McDonald's Choice by McDonald Chief, owned by Mr. E. R. Myers, were among the nicest horses shown.

Rall's King Emerald, a strapping big chestnut owned by J. M. Hutsell and ridden by Mr. P. F. Herriott was a popular horse with the crowd.

DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Bridget Drennan, one of the best known and most highly esteemed women in this county, died at her home near Grassy Lick, this county, Friday night after a long illness of the infirmities of age. Mrs. Drennan was the widow of Joseph Drennan, who died here many years ago, and was a native of Ireland. She formerly resided in Mason county, and came here about thirty-two years ago. Three children survive her—Mrs. Mary Guilfoile, Joseph and Dan Drennan, all of this county. Mrs. Drennan was about 92 years old, a devout member of St. Patrick's church, and one of the most lovable and charitable women in this county. Her death causes much regret here.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at St. Patrick's church, by Rev. Father Rohrer, and the body was laid to rest in St. Thomas' cemetery. Many relatives and friends from Mason and Fleming counties were here to attend the funeral.

If you are a property owner do not wait to be asked but hunt up those who have the petitions and pay your part. The oiling of the streets is one of the best things that can be done for a city as it keeps your home clean and free from the diseased laden dust.

DECISIVE "DRY" VICTORY

Is Decision of Court of Appeals Just Handed Down in Local Case.

As we were about to go to press, information has reached here by telephone to the effect that the Court of Appeals has sustained the local option election held here in September last, when a majority was cast in favor of prohibiting the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors and the saloons must close when the mandate of the Court of Appeals is issued. We are informed this is always issued thirty days after the rendition of the opinion, unless ordered issued sooner by the Court and we are further informed that an effort will be made to secure the issue of the mandate at once. We could not learn whether the opinion was unanimous or anything about it other than that it was a sweeping victory for the "drys."

The Montgomery county case was heard with similar appeals from Shelby and Bourbon and it is thought here that the elections in those counties were also upheld.

MRS. CHICK STRICKEN

Mrs. Carrie A. Chick, widow of Mr. George E. Chick, was stricken with paralysis at her home Sunday. Mrs. Chick had arisen from bed and lighted her gas fire, when she was suddenly stricken and fell to the floor. Her grandson, Mr. Alfred Jones, went to her room and finding the doors locked raised the screen window and got into the room where he found his grandmother and lifted her to a chair, and called his parents. Mrs. Chick is 63 years old. She is City Librarian and is an excellent lady. Her condition is considered serious.

WELL KNOWN MAN DIES

Mr. George Stiles Dies Monday Morning After Illness of Several Weeks Duration.

Many friends of Mr. George Stiles, aged 62, will learn with regret that he died at his home on the Maysville pike early Monday morning after being confined to his bed for several days. Mr. Stiles had been in poor health for several months but his condition was not considered serious until the past few weeks.

He was known to nearly every body in the county and his favorite expression or greeting of "old hoss" will long be remembered. He was good natured, big hearted, generous, and a man who never intentionally did anyone a wrong.

He is survived by his wife who has the sympathy of many friends in her bereavement.

PUT UP THE BARS!

Uncle Sam's peaceful shores are threatened by an invasion of the thirsty hordes from Europe.

Russia has prohibited the sale of vodka.

France has placed a ban on absinthe.

England is curtailing the sale of intoxicating drinks.

And now the kaiser is to prohibit the sale of distilled liquors in the German empire!

Bar the door!

You are not complimentary to Providence when you find fault with the world it directs.

No man was ever big enough to entirely fill a woman's life.

THE STAR SPANGLED STEP

England to the right of us, France to the left of us, Russia behind us and Germany in front of us—volleying and thundering, and rending and destroying!

And Uncle Sam is expected to sidestep this bunch without friction.

Truly, the Star Spangled Step is a man's dance.

Nothing doing—we positively and emphatically and vociferously decline the presidency. Too strenuous a job while these wars are frolicing around the globe.

Love would be a poor thing if there was no jealousy.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

Clement Manning has bought a new comb and has begun to train his hair to stand up in front, so that nobody can tell when he gets scared.

Leonard Boulton has a good cow for sale. If he can't sell her to some individual he's going to begin to let her graze on the railroad track.

A circus appeared in Snagtown last week. The show was well supplied with music, having a snare drum and two phonographs.

The Snagtown Postmaster has handled several post cards lately that contained writing of no importance whatever, and as his time is valuable, he asks his patrons to refrain from writing unless they have something to write about.

A deaf man visited Snagtown Saturday. He stood around the postoffice for a while and the Postmaster got the funnel from the molasses barrel and made an unsuccessful attempt to find out the man's business in this section.

Miss Sisley Twigg had one of her front teeth taken out this week. Until a new one can be put in she will wear a grain of corn in its place.

Violators of the law in this section are getting so few and far between that the deputy constable Watty Parker is complaining that his tin star is getting rusty.

Chas. Ewell went to Peavine Ridge Thursday to have his picture taken. He had a time exposure made and did not get back until this morning.

Mrs. DeWhopper's pet jay bird died this week. This jay-bird has stood by Mrs. DeWhopper like a brother and has listened to her singing when the rest of the world turned a deaf ear.

While John Dashner was over at Lazy Hollow yesterday buying some summer supplies he met a friend he had not seen before in fifteen years. The man recognized John by the hat he wore.

Dan Ingals will go to Peavine Ridge next Wednesday, where he will stand up with a bridal couple if he is not too tired.

DR. JOHN L. BROWN DIES

Dr. John L. Brown, of Rothwell, died at the home of his father, Mr. R. R. Brown, near Jeffersonville, last Tuesday about noon of paralysis. Dr. Brown suffered a stroke several days ago and was taken to Lexington to undergo treatment. He was brought to his father's home a few days ago.

The interment took place in Muel-pelah cemetery Wednesday afternoon with brief services at the grave. He was fifty-one years of age and for many years made his home in this county, but for some time had been practicing his profession at Rothwell, in Menefee county. He was twice married and is survived by three children—Norman D. Brown, of this city, and Misses Fanny and Ruth Brown, of the county, besides his aged father and three brothers, Tul P. Brown, of Cincinnati; Ed. Brown, of Louisville, and Zach Brown, of Jeffersonville, and three sisters, Mrs. Sarah B. Drake, Mrs. L. L. Bridgforth and Mrs. Tom Moore, all of this city, the latter of whom is visiting in Florida.

Germany swears by everything holy that SHE will NEVER sue for peace. And the allies swear a little harder and louder that THEY will NEVER take the initiative in favor of a suspension of hostilities, and that the Kaiser MUST crook the knee. So there you are. Sick em.

It is the easiest thing in the world to manage a wife. The only trouble is, we don't know how.

A BIG PLUM—GRAB IT

There's a juicy commercial plum right within our reach.

Prior to the war Russia imported nearly all of her manufactured articles from Germany—enormous quantities of them.

Now Russia seeks to establish close trade relations with the United States.

She wants to buy her hundreds of millions of dollars worth of supplies from us, and she has the gold with which to pay.

Great possibilities for the future are opened up to the manufacturers of this country—if they will but grasp them.

It will require the adjusting of financial conditions to harmonize with those existing in Russia in the matter of credits, which are quite at variance with our American methods.

But what Germany has been able to do, WE CAN DO—if we try.

It is a simple matter for our great manufacturing interests to send representatives to Russia and pave the way for this tremendous volume of business.

It is too big a plum to be cast aside, and it is to be hoped manufacturing and financial men of affairs will be equal to the emergency.

If you simply must "throw on dog" make it a full grown one and not a pup.

THE MAN WHO ADVERTISES

There are two classes of merchants—those who ADVERTISE, and those who DO NOT.

The man who advertises has the BEST OF THE DEAL.

He keeps HIMSELF before the public—he keeps HIS WARES before the public—and he keeps their QUALITY and PRICE uppermost in the PUBLIC MIND.

People TALK about the man who ADVERTISES, because they know he has something worth advertising—or he wouldn't advertise.

Cohwens never grow in the store of the man who advertises, because people buy his goods because he DOES advertise.

People READ the advertisements—they LOOK for them and EXPECT to find them—and often end in FORGETTING the man who does NOT advertise.

If marriage is the normal state, what of the bald headed old bachelor? You know him.

We have read somewhere that the cost of stopping a railroad train had been closely figured out, and that it was much greater than the expense of running a train several miles. We do not know which is harder to stop, a train or a habit, but we are inclined to think the latter. We have never tried stopping a train. If trains are as hard to stop as some habits, few would ever be started. No one would dare to ride on them. Never start a habit you think you may want to stop. It saves a great deal of trouble not to start it.

ROGER MAUPIN KILLED

Roger Maupin, of Salt Lick, a near relative of W. R. and Dan Maupin, of this city, and who had many friends and acquaintances here, was ground to pieces by the wheels of a train on the Louisville and Nashville tracks about six miles west of Frankfort last Tuesday night. It is supposed he was riding on the outside of a westbound freight train and in some manner lost his hold and fell to his death. His mangled body was found on the track the next morning and taken to Frankfort where it was identified by a letter in his pocket. Roger Maupin was about 35 years old and for a time worked with the C. & O. Railroad as fireman. He lived with his parents at Salt Lick and was unmarried.

To the Democrats of Montgomery County:

I wish to announce that if Mr. John H. Blount is nominated and elected Clerk of the Montgomery Circuit Court, I will be his Deputy and my father's family will share one-half the proceeds of the office. For the sake of my father, who was a loyal Democrat, my mother's sake, and my own, I earnestly solicit your influence and support, and any help you may give Mr. Blount will be greatly appreciated by me. Yours faithfully and hopefully, Anise Hunt.

GET BIG CONTRACT

Friends of Messrs. L. C. McCormick and Fred F. McCormick, formerly of this place, but who now compose the management of The S. F. McCormick Lumber Company, of Lexington, will be glad to know that their company was awarded the contract for furnishing the lumber and mill work for the Louisville & Nashville Freight station now in course of erection at Lexington. This is an $80,000 structure and goes to show that these former Montgomery county boys are able to take care of large contracts.

FRED ANDERSON HURT

Mr. Miller Anderson, of this city, has received a letter from his son, Fred who is now in San Francisco, telling him of an injury he received some ten days ago by being struck by a street car in that city. He was taken to a hospital where it developed that his injuries were not as serious as at first thought, and in the letter he expresses the belief that he will be out in a few days. Fred Anderson went to San Francisco about four and a half years ago.

OF INTEREST HERE

A marriage of much interest to relatives and friends in Montgomery county, where the bride was born and raised, is that of Miss Nancy Jones, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Jones, of Millersburg to Mr. William Henry Cannon, of Paris, which will be solemnized at the Christian church in Millersburg, Wednesday, April 21st, at 2 o'clock p. m.

By his authority it is our pleasure to acquaint the voters of the city of Mt. Sterling with the fact that Mr. W. T. Fitzpatrick, Jr., our present obliging and capable City Assessor, desires an endorsement and will therefore be a candidate to succeed himself at the August primary, subject to the action of his fellow-Democrats.

As a good officer and deserving Democrat we submit his claims and urge for them very careful consideration.

APRIL COURT DAY

The pens were again closed Monday, owing to the quarantine but a few cattle were for sale in private lots. From 500 to 750 cattle were on the market. Prices were good, the best selling at 7 to 7½ cents; cows at 5 to 6 cents. Most of the stuff sold was by the head and the prices we quote were about what the buyers thought they were paying per pound. But it would be safe to add 50 cents to prices as that would be nearer what cattle really sold for.

Many mules were sold at prices running from $100 to $200 each, but demand was not as big as was expected. There were a number of buyers seeking good mules, among them Fletcher Mann, of Lexington; Henry Caywood, North Middletown; and Thomas McClintock, of Millersburg.

The quality of Courroy harness means "safety first" with prices no higher. 41-2t J. M. Courroy.

PROMINENT LEXINGTONIAN DIES MONDAY NIGHT

Col. W. R. Milward, a veteran of the Union army and one of the most widely known citizens of Fayette county, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital Monday night. He was prominent in church and business circles. Colonel Milward forgot his prejudices after the war and numbered among his warmest friends many of those who had fought against him in the civil struggle. He was perhaps the only Union member of the United Confederate Veterans and regularly attended the Confederate reunions, and those of Morgan's Men, as an honorary member of these bodies. Col. Milward was known and admired by many people in this city and county.

PRISONER SCALES JAIL WALL AND ESCAPES

Sunday being a beautiful warm day and Jailer J. F. Richardson having much of the milk of human kindness in his heart, decided to allow the prisoners to occupy the jail yard for the afternoon. The yard is enclosed by a 20 foot stone wall but Orville Howard, a young colored man, convicted last week of forgery, managed to scale the wall and escape. Shortly after he made his escape the other prisoners called Mr. Richardson and a diligent search was made but as yet he has not been apprehended.

Later: A telegram was received here yesterday morning from the Chief of Police, of Kenova, W. Va., that a negro answering the description of Howard had been arrested there and Sheriff Howell left on the noon train for that city.

Memory of Bees.

Sir John Lubbock in his book on bees proves that the honey makers have plenty of memory. He has shown that the bees of a colony recognized each other after a separation of fifteen months. The members of the same colony always recognize each other after a prolonged absence, and, although it has not yet been established, there seems to be good reason to believe that they do so principally by the sense of smell and not by some signal or password, as has been supposed.

A Mild Hint.

Two guests came to spend the evening and didn't know when to depart. The host and hostess were patient with them, very patient, but when 11, 12 and finally 1 o'clock struck the husband realized that something must be done. He was an original chap, and in his droll way he looked over at his wife and said mildly:

"My dear, hadn't we better get up to bed? Our friends may want to be going."

The Word Gazette.

The word "gazette" is from the name of an old Venetian coin worth about one-half cent of our money. The name is applied to newspapers because it was the sum charged for reading the first written journals that made their appearance in 1550. After the paper was read it was handed back to the owner, who charged the next comer a gazette for taking a peep at it.

A Crownless Coronation.

A coronation without a crown sounds distinctly Irish, yet such was in effect the ceremony in which Henry III. took the most prominent part at Gloucester on Oct. 28, 1216. On this occasion a plain circle was used instead of a crown, which had been lost with the jewels and other baggage of King John in passing the marshes of Lynn or the Wash near Wisbech.

LARGEST LAND OWNER IN KENTUCKY DIES

Rankin Clemmons, 89 years of age, the largest individual landowner in Kentucky since the death of James B. Haggin, and reputed to be a millionaire, died at the home of D. B. Cawley, near South Elkhorn, in Fayette county, early Monday morning. The land holdings of Mr. Clemmons are reported at about 7,000 acres, located in Fayette, Mercer, Woodford, Jessamine and Scott counties. Although the greater parts of these farms are the best land in the Blue Grass, Mr. Clemmons never attempted to farm in a scientific way, and believed that sufficient profits were to be found in the increase of value of the real estate itself.

The wealth which Mr. Clemmons had accumulated was due entirely to his own efforts, and he gave as his maxim in an interview once "Mind your own business." His commercial activities in recent years were confined to the buying of land, and on an average he purchased two new tracts a year. One of his peculiarities was that he always tried to keep the news of his purchases quiet. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John Larkin, of South Elkhorn.

We are reproducing below a letter written by a 12-year-old Montgomery county boy who contributed a coat to the box of clothing sent the Belgians from this county. The letter was put in the pocket of the coat:

Dear Belgian Boy:—I am sending you a coat from Kentucky. Do you want to come to America? If you do, write to me and I will try to get you here. I live in the Blue Grass region of Kentucky. I hope that this coat will keep you warm. If you want to come to my home, you must come to Mt. Sterling and then phone to me, and I will meet you. We will hunt part of the time, play part of the time, and work part of the time. I have a pony and we will have a fine time. I feel sorry for you over there where the war is. I hope there will soon be peace among you all. Be sure and write to me at Mt. Sterling, Ky., and come if you can. Your friend,

EBENEZER PRESBYTERY COMPLETES ITS WORK

Three-Day Convention Held at Mt. Sterling Ends With Elections.

The Presbytery of Ebenezer closed here Thursday afternoon after a three days' convention, which was one of the most interesting ever held, and one of the best attended of any meetings held during the past year. At the morning session the devotional exercises were led by Rev. M. D. McClelland, and reports of committees were heard on college board by Rev. J. P. Whitehead, of Pikeville; on church erection by Rev. W. C. Condit, of Ashland; on Sabbath Schools by Rev. G. A. Joplin, of Louisville; on evangelistic work by Rev. C. L. Reynolds, of Lexington. The election of commissioners to attend the General Assembly were then chosen as follows: Rev. J. H. Forsythe, of Pikeville; alternate, C. H. White, of Ashland; Elder R. A. Bryan, of Maysville; J. M. Osborne, of Pikeville; alternate. Delegates and local ministers were entertained at dinner in the church parlors. Strong resolutions were adopted. The Presbytery will hold its next meeting in Ashland in October.

The Woman's Missionary Society

closed its final session at noon, having accepted the invitation of the Pikeville church to hold the next session there in the spring of 1915.

The following delegates were elected to attend the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society which will be held in Louisville on April 28 and 29: Miss Charlotte Rogers, Mt. Sterling; Miss Catherine Condit, Ashland; Mrs. Shelby Settle, Frankfort; Mrs. John Stofor, Mt. Sterling; Mrs. John Scott, Lexington; Mrs. Hugh Leith, Covington; Mrs. A. Auxler, Pikeville; Mrs. Rebecca Kendal, of Winchester.

The following officers of the society were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. R. B. Kendal, of Winchester; first vice president, Mrs. Carl White, Ludlow; second vice president, Mrs. J. Foster Barbour, Maysville; third vice president, Mrs. F. S. Allen, Sharpsburg; recording secretary, Mrs. J. T. Dwelly, Ludlow; corresponding secretary of Home Missions, Miss Phoebe Bailiff, Dayton; corresponding secretary of Foreign Missions, Miss Charlotte Rogers, Mt. Sterling; treasurer of Home Missions, Mrs. Frank Halleam, Bellevue; treasurer of Foreign Missions, Mrs. J. R. Crawford, Pikeville; secretary of Literature and Study Classes, Mrs. C. Debell, Flemingsburg; secretary of Young People's Work, Miss Katherine Condit, Ashland.

One of the features of the woman's meeting was an address on "Foreign Missions" by Miss Lucy J. Cooper, of New York, a returned missionary from Siam.

BABIES PRETTIER THAN EVER

Even in the midst of war France finds time to rejoice over the fact that its babies born during the past six months are healthier and prettier than ever before. It is a source of much pride to the republic.

But pretty babies is becoming an old story in America, and no longer occasions more than passing comment.

Of all the civilized people of the earth, there are no healthier babies born than those of the United States. Of all the peoples of the world, there are none so pretty as our American babies.

And of all the pretty babies in existence, there are none to compare with the babies of our own town.

Our babies are the acme of perfection and beauty.

And if you doubt our simple word, JUST ASK THE MOTHERS.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. What better proof can be had?

"I had a great deal of trouble from my kidneys," says S. T. Greene, of 62 Holt Ave., Mt. Sterling. "The kidney action was too frequent, especially at night, but the flow of the secretions was scanty. The secretion also contained sediment. My back ached and I had pains through my sides. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply as Duerson's Drug Store. The brought the best results."

MAKING THE GARDEN

Come out into the garden, Maude, Come out and watch me make it; I've got two spades, two peeks of seeds

And a rake with which to rake it. Come out and watch with what deft skill

An Irishman I hire: And help me sit upon the fence To watch the man perspire. When I was young and foolish, Maude,

I used to do that work; And showed big blisters on my hands As proudly as a Turk.

But now, although my head is bald It's twenty times as foxy, And when the gentle springtime comes,

I garden it by proxy. Some men are so lazy they never work except in fly time.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

Brace up, be brave, don't worry,
Face trouble with a smile.
The cloudy day will pass away;
'Twill brighten after 'while.
Misfortune and disaster
May almost bear you down,
But try again, your grit maintain;
Cheer up, just smile, don't frown.

Despair is not a winner;
The race is for the strong.
The weary steed can have no speed;
Despondency is wrong.
No life is without trials,
No pathway always clear,
But don't despair, just subdue care,
And beat it with good cheer.

Let not your courage falter,
Only the weaklings yield;
Keep in the fight for all that's right;
Let valor be your shield.
Be just, be fair, be fearless,
To knockers give no heed;
Take the bright side; 'tis the right side;
'Twill help you to succeed.

—Frank Eberle.

GROUCH PROOF

In Chicago a man has just left a hospital whose inner works are all topsy-turvy, and yet the world is exceeding bright to him and his good nature radiates sunshine wherever he goes.

His heart is on the right side; his liver is on the left, when it should be on the right side; his spleen is on the right, when it should be the opposite, and his stomach is further over to the right than it should be.

He has excellent digestion, is happy, 43 years old, and has never been in love.

He is grouch proof.

SAVINGS AND SUCCESS

A great banking house issues, as an advertisement, this quotation from James J. Hill:

"If you want to know whether you are to be a success or failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple and infallible. Are you able to save money? If you drop, you will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

James J. Hill has far too sound sense and far too wide a vision ever to have said this without qualification.

The mere saving of money helps to success in petty business; in large business it helps but little; and in the professions, the sciences and in any line of endeavor that tends toward the physical, social, intellectual and moral betterment of mankind it counts not at all.

The world's greatest men and women whom history ranks as the highest successes, down through all the ages, and who have led us from savagery to civilization, become great not through what they got, but through what they gave. They not only did not save their money, they did not save themselves.

Who could imagine a Homer, a Shakespeare, a Milton, a Franklin, devoting their lives to the paltry saving of their pennies? Few of them ever had many pennies to save. Saving has its virtues, but it has its vices, too. It is the worst of all the professions, the sciences and in any line of endeavor that tends to-

THE DIVERSIFIED CROP

Present indications are that the farmer in the Southern States will go in for a diversified crop this year, which means, in short, that he will undertake the raising of something beside cotton. The experiences of last year are fresh enough in the mind of the Dixie planter to impel him to some change of programme which will enable him to have more than one commodity to fall back on in a crisis. That he is meeting with encouragement, not only in his own land, but in the North as well, is apparent from the following editorial comment in the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph under the caption, "King Cotton, Despot."

"Diversify your crops," the frantic editors, educators and lecturers have shouted for years to the Southern farmer. But the farmer would not. His petty reason is that he lives through the winter on credit at a general store owned by a queer man who demands payment in bales of next summer's cotton. The price of hay, hogs and hominy may be high or low, but King Cotton is a kind of gold standard in Dixie.

"In a region where four out of five farmers are almost hopelessly in debt—living today on tomorrow's uncertain crop—great initiative in crop diversification cannot be expected. The spirit is willing but the mortgage forbids."

This is hardly just to the Southern planter. While it is true that he stakes much of the future on his cotton crop, he is not hopelessly in debt and is not living today on tomorrow's uncertain crop. Neither is he wholly mortgaged, nor mortgaged to the extent that he is under the thumb of King Cotton, the so-called despot.

The farmer of the South today is ready to try the experiment of a diversified crop, and can do it without imperiling his future. He can go in for "hay, hog and hominy," as the phrase goes, and tackle the problem without any serious misgivings as to the outcome. He is not alarmed at the sneers of his neighbors, or the owl-like croakings of his misguided friends in the North. He is going to make a try at a diversified crop, and everyone who knows his ability to secure results when he sets out on a mission of reformation feels certain that the diversified crop in the South will be a reality this season, and that the farmers in this section will reap a reward from their soil which they have overlooked for many years in the past.—Louisville Times.

IT'S UP TO US

A paragraph is flitting around in the press to the effect that "the future may be bright for some, but the road will always be dark for others."

Of course some pessimist wrote it, for pessimists always mill around in the shadows.

As a matter of hard fact, this world is always just about what we choose to make it.

If we pull a long face and go hunting for troubles, WE WILL FIND THEM—in bunches.

If we saddle ourselves with a case of the blues in the morning, and hang onto it with a death grip all day, and take it to bed with us at night, we will probably find life's pathway shrouded in gloom.

But it will be gloom of our own making, and we will be getting only that which we sought.

But how different is the other side?

God inflicts us all with certain troubles, but He also gives us brains and determination and a will power with which to rise above the petty perplexities and tribulations of life.

The bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission.

It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who cannot feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright sunshine, and three meals a day, is something less than a normal human being. There is a screw loose somewhere.

Even the animals of the earth and the birds of the air are not so degenerate in their class, for they seek always for the brightness of life.

And is our intelligence and our will power inferior to theirs, that we should live with an ache and die with a grunt?

Every trouble inflicted upon us is for our own ultimate good, and they are infinitesimal when compared with the joys of a bright mind, a clear conscience and a determination to reap to the fullest of life's blessings.

If the road is dark to some, it is because they do not use the brains which God gave them in overcoming the obstacles which He in His wisdom has placed in their pathway.

Our future is up to us, to make or to mar, as we choose.

TRIMMED AND BURNING

Recently a metropolitan paper printed an item about a man who kept a lamp in his window for forty years to guide his sweetheart to his Western home. She never came, but the lamp burned brightly just the same. His faith did not falter. He had implicit trust. Though she had been drowned at sea, yet every night he trimmed his lamp and set it as a beacon for her feet.

All over the land such beacon lights are burning, even in our little inland towns, far from the surge of the rolling sea. When once this light of love is kindled the winter winds blow in vain to extinguish them. When the storm is at its height, when the fog gathers the thickest, then it is that the faithful light burns the clearest. The rays from his lone lamp have more of strength and beauty than could be packed into the crown jewels of an emperor.

PLEASANT THOUGHTS

John Ruskin: Make yourself nests of pleasant thoughts. None of us yet know, for none of us have been taught in early youth, what fairy palaces we may build of beautiful thoughts, proof against all adversity, bright fancies, satisfied memories, noble histories, faithful sayings, treasure houses of precious and restful thoughts, which care cannot disturb nor pain make gloomy, nor poverty take away from us; houses built without hands for our souls to live in.

It might be possible to be so happy in heaven you want to make an excursion to earth and take up your old troubles for a change.

BILLIE P.

I will tell you of a pony that belongs to me, He is known as the Champion, his name is Billy P. He has shown against ponies all over the State, But they can't beat him and that is what they hate. Call around at my hospital and take a look, And I think you will decide to sign his book. Come around before you make up your mind, I think he will beat anything you can find. For conformation and style he is right there, Hooked to a buggy he is certainly a bear, He will make the season over on the bill, And insure a living colt for a ten dollar bill.

CARTER COUNTY FAIR

The date of the Fourth Annual Carter County Fair is September 1, 2, 3, 4, 1915. The Fair has been most successful in the past, but this year it promises to be better than ever before.

The Company has leased for a number of years Oakland Park, one of the most beautiful spots in the mountains of Kentucky. It has an excellent half-mile race track, good grand stands, ample stable room, spacious exhibition halls, and a grove of oaks that has no equal.

In addition to the agricultural and educational features, which are to be improved, the Company this year extends to all former Carter Countians an invitation to make the first week in September "Home Coming Week."

The purses and premiums for the 1915 Fair will be greater than in former years. And a handsome catalog of premiums, etc., will be issued in the near future.

Everybody wants to go to heaven, but the young buck who spends his time making "racy" remarks about women will find it a long and rocky road to travel.

WALLACE AND CHANEY FOUND GUILTY IN CLARK

T. Q. Wallace and Frank Chaney were found guilty and J. M. Hines, William and Ambrose Lynch and L. S. Gardner were acquitted by a jury in the Clark Circuit Court of the murder of Henston Underwood at Irvine, Estill county, on the night of February 12th. There was no demonstration when the verdict was announced, the only sound which broke the silence of the court room being the weeping of T. Q. Wallace's wife. The case will be appealed. The trial was sent to Clark county on a motion for change of venue made by Colonel T. C. Johnson, Commonwealth's Attorney in the Estill Circuit Court on the ground that the Commonwealth could not obtain a fair trial in Estill because of the fear of the people of that county of harm at the hands of the defendants or their friends.
